

Furthering everyone's right to communication

Mo Gård is a leading, private knowledge and service company working within the field of communication and disability.

Our foundation-owned, non-profit operations are carried out at several locations in southern Sweden. Since 2003, we have also been assigned responsibility by the Swedish Government for the National Resource Centre on Deafblindness (nkcdb.se).

The organisation offer:

- ✓ Accommodation with special services for adults
- ✓ Daily activities
- ✓ Accommodation with special services for children and young people
- ✓ Upper secondary special school with individual programmes

Professional education for our employees

At Mo Gård, we place great emphasis on competence and its development. Competence development improves the ability to solve tasks, adding value for our clients. Mo Gård therefore offers systematic professional education through introductory, basic and in-depth training.

OUR FOCUS

Communication and social interaction

Inclusion in a social setting with accommodation, active leisure time and a meaningful everyday existence is an important aspect of life. Mo Gård offers services for people with multiple disabilities who need a customised environment and communication. Our aim is to provide the right conditions for a good quality of life based on the interests and wishes of the individual.

OUR OFFER

Adapted for the individual

For people with multiple disabilities who are in need of specialised communication support, Mo Gård offers:

- ✓ Complete solutions with a high level of individual adaptations
- ✓ Accommodation and daily activities with employees who have specialised competence in disabilities and communication
- ✓ Systematic development of our employees' competence through internal training
- ✓ Our own specialist organisation with responsibility for continuous education, training and supervision

Today we are located in several places in Sweden, making a difference to people every day.
